

Eileen Loring

1936 - 2007

Eileen Joyce Loring, 71, of Windsor died Aug. 8, 2007 at Exempla Lutheran Medical Center in Wheat Ridge following a concert at Red Rocks in Morrison.

She was born in 1936 to Joseph Henry and Winona (Wanamaker) Bond in Somerville, Mass. She had three sons and a long career at Hewlett Packard in Massachusetts and Colorado. Her hobbies were in silverwork, jewelry-making, wire work, photography, beadwork and portrait painting.

In recent years she concentrated on polymer clay, attending live concerts and polymer clay retreats at Pingree Park. She is survived by sons Bob and David Loring, both of Windsor. She is preceded in death by her parents, sister Joyce, brother Joseph, and son Stephen.

A Life Celebration Gathering will be held in Poudre Canyon on August 18, 2007. <http://www.LoringDesign.com/Eileen.html>

Eileen was planning on attending the annual Polymer Clay group retreat at Pingree Park. The attendees of the retreat will celebrate Eileen's life on August 23, 2007
